IATA International Airfares

Learn how to create IATA International Airfares

$799.00

Do you know your NUCs from your HIPs? In this course you will learn how to construct Airfares that meet International Air Transport Association (IATA) regulations. You will create many types of different flight itineraries including complex Round World Airfares. The training incorporates the use of Amadeus (GDS) Computer Reservation System so you will need Amadeus Certification prior to starting this course. Using Amadeus to construct airfares during your training makes it realistic, practical and up-to-date with industry practice. You will also locate airfares using airlines consolidators and learn how to price-match. This course is a must for anyone aspiring to work for an airline, travel agency or ticketing office.

Combine this course with Amadeus Certification and receive a reduced course fee. Start anytime, hands-on, practical training. 100% online and self-paced.

This course is nationally recognized and industry accredited - 2 units of study:
